

MAPLE STREET COMMUNITY GARDEN SCRAPBOOK

The way we found it in 2012.

Taking out the trash.

Clearing the ground for a garden.

Building the plant beds.

Trucking in organic soil.

First fruits.

First of three pallet-and-chickenwire compost bins.

Gardeners and neighbors.

A radiant cauliflower!

Joe & Mike Makhani, principals in HUD LLC, tear down garden signs, threaten gardeners, 10/2014.

Plant bed vandalized by Makhani's workers 11/2014

Neighbors confront Makhani 11/2014.

Called by neighbors, police stop Makhani from trashing garden.

Police officers alongside the Makhani's crew's truck.

Garden members in Kings County Housing Court, following service of eviction notice, 2/2015.

Garden representatives meet with City Councilmember Mathieu Eugene to request support.

Representatives of several community gardens in danger make the Maple Street garden a stop on their bike tour, 4/2015.

Kids use the garden to work, play, eat, harvest carrots.